

Disclaimer

For public website information and content made available free of charge.

Version 1.3 · 6 October 2026 · Axi Legal B.V. · Baarn, the Netherlands

This disclaimer applies to the Axi Legal website and to information and publications made available free of charge, unless expressly stated otherwise.

1. Informational nature

Website information, knowledge-base articles, checklists, white papers, newsletters and other content made available free of charge are intended as general information. Axi Legal strives to provide careful and up-to-date information, but does not guarantee that all public information is complete, accurate or current.

2. No individual engagement or legal advice

Public information does not constitute legal advice tailored to a specific situation. Consulting or using it does not create an engagement agreement or other professional relationship with Axi Legal.

Legal analyses, advice and Deliverables that Axi Legal provides to a client under an accepted engagement do not fall under this disclaimer, but are governed by the applicable agreement and Axi Legal's General Terms and Conditions, including applicable product-specific annexes.

3. Business services

Axi Legal provides its services to businesses, organisations and other clients acting in the course of a profession or business. Axi Legal is not a law firm and does not perform activities that are legally reserved to a professional holding a qualification that Axi Legal does not possess.

4. AI-supported public content

Axi Legal may use AI and other digital tools for research, structuring, drafting and maintenance of public content. Public content remains general information and is not a substitute for advice on a specific matter.

5. Use of information

Use of information made available free of charge is at your own risk. Before acting on that information, it should be assessed whether advice tailored to the specific facts, applicable law and intended purpose is required.

6. External websites

The website may refer to third-party websites or services. Axi Legal is not responsible for the content, availability or policies of such external sources.

7. Intellectual property

Intellectual property rights in the website and in texts, models, templates, reports and other content developed or published by Axi Legal are held by Axi Legal or its licensors, unless stated otherwise. Use is permitted to the extent allowed by law or an applicable agreement. Any other reproduction, publication or commercial exploitation requires prior written permission.

8. Liability

To the extent permitted by law, Axi Legal is not liable for loss arising from or related to the use of or reliance on website information made available free of charge, any incompleteness or outdated information, or temporary unavailability of the website. Agreed services are governed exclusively by the applicable contractual terms and project-specific arrangements.

9. Changes and contact

Axi Legal may amend this disclaimer. The current version is published on the website. Questions may be sent to contact@axilegal.com.
